

Handsel brand sheet

Six pieces of one thing. A mark built from geometry, one gradient that flows through everything it touches, glass and grain where there is depth, and heavy type that stays quiet around it. This is the sheet a brand team hands over; everything on it is also a rule the gate can score.

The mark

Six pie slices, apex down, apex up, in a 3:1 band. The flow runs through all six as one field.

Clear space

One slice radius on every side. Minimum width 96 px on screen, 28 mm in print.

The mark is never rotated, mirrored, outlined or given a shadow. A single slice may stand alone as the avatar or favicon unit.

Colour

Three grounds, one ink, five gradient stops. Indigo is the only flat accent. No stop is ever text.

The flow

One gradient, left to right, deep indigo to rose. Raw on the mark. Display type takes the text variant, which starts from ink. Softened to a wash when it is a ground.

Do and do not

Each of these is a check the gate runs.

Geometry

Measured off the PSD and regenerated by brand/build_mark.py, so the ident and the gate read the same numbers.
